HUNGARIAN REDS ADVANCE ON THE
ROUMANIAN ARMY LED BY BELA KUN

VIENNA, July 23rd (Delayed)—Hungarian Reds continuing their offensive against the Roumanians advanced along the east bank of the Tisza river. Reports state that the Red offensive is being directed by Bela Kun. This apparently refutes the reports that Bela Kun has been ousted as head of the Hungarian Communist government or means that he has returned to power. The Reds in their drive have captured two important towns between Budapest and the west. They crossed the river at several places. The troops are commanded by Commissary Landler and former Lieutenant Jular, Chief of the General Staff. It has been learned that the Reds will attack in several directions. Also that the Roumanian Whites are to be attacked by an army of three divisions and thirty-three batteries of artillery.

NO LET UP IN PROSECUTION OF THE
TRUSTS ANNOUNCES ATTY. GENERAL

WASHINGTON, July 24—Attorney General Palmer set at rest reports that prosecutions of anti-trust cases will be definitely discontinued when he declared today that the cases will be taken up in October where they were left off when the war started. The case of alleged combination of steel companies will likely be the first to have attention by argument before the Supreme Court. Palmer also announced that the packers would come in for some attention but added "I will have something definite to say about this about August." The Attorney General is closely following the House and Senate committees in their work of investigating the packers.

MONTANA AND IDAHO TIMBER LANDS BURN

MISSOULA, Montana, July 24—The forest fire which has been raging here is still threatening the city of St. Regis. Thomson Falls though menaced, will probably escape injury. This section is experiencing its greatest forest fire since 1910. Already there have been 250,000 acres burned over in Montana and 150,000 in northern Idaho. The timber loss is well over one hundred million feet.

HOLDING GERMAN PRISONERS AT HOBOKEN

NEW YORK CITY, July 24—The three German prisoners who arrived here recently consigned to the Intelligence Department of the United States are still at the guard house at Hoboken camp today. It was said that the authorities are awaiting instructions as to their disposition.

ARMY AIRMEN WILL CIRCLE U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24—Lieutenant R. F. Hartz, Army Air service, hopped off today for Augusta, Maine, on the first leg of an attempt to circle the United States by the air route. The trip will be eight thousand miles.

SCALE ADJUSTMENT
NOT TO BE MADE
UNTIL OCTOBER

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 23.—There will be no adjustment of the wage scale in District No. 2 of the United Mine Workers until after the national convention at Indianapolis, early in September, according to prominent operators in this section today. The matter is expected to come to a climax when the next convention of the district is held in October.

For the first time in the history of the mine workers' organization, Johnstown will get this year's convention. The miners contend that their war-time scale with the operators is effective until the peace treaty is ratified and the larger operators of the district have agreed to grant this concession, especially in view of the fact that production is at low ebb and may not improve greatly before the deliberations on the new scale take place at the convention here.

IN FINE SHAPE FOR SHOW

Last night's rehearsal of the Red Cross pageant was the best that has been held thus far. The members of the cast are working diligently on their parts and the performance bids fair to be one of the best of the year. There will be another full rehearsal tonight and the various parts of the pageant will be gone over in full style. All members of the cast are requested to be present at the time assigned to them by Miss Chorpennin tonight so that every detail may be worked out to a nicety.

ALL SERVICE MEN
ENTITLED TO VOTE

The last legislature passed an act providing for the voting of service men who returned to their home districts too late to register, be assessed, and pay taxes.

Need Not be Assessed

Any soldier, sailor or marine in the service, or who has served in the Army or Navy of the United States and who has returned to his home shall be entitled to vote in his respective election district as a soldier, sailor or marine. Notwithstanding that such soldier, sailor or marine has not been assessed and has not paid the "usual" taxes, or has not personally registered in the district in which he resides, provided that such election at which he offers to vote shall occur at such time as he has prevented such soldier, sailor or marine from being assessed and from having paid his "usual" taxes, and where the same is necessary from having been personally registered after his return to his home as is required in the case of election by the constitution.

No person shall be allowed to vote under the provisions of this act unless he produces evidence satisfactory to the election officers that he is entitled to vote as a soldier, sailor or marine under the provisions of this act; and unless he shall produce to the election officers a receipt from proper tax collector setting forth that such person has paid a county tax of ten cents. The several tax collectors are hereby authorized to receive such tax of ten cents and issue a receipt therefor. All such taxes shall be paid to the county treasurer as provided by law in the case of other taxes.

Penalties for Misuse

Any person who shall vote under the provisions without being entitled to do so under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $100 and in default of the payment of the fine and costs shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding 90 days.

This act shall apply to all soldiers, sailors and marines in the service of the Army and Navy of the United States as well as those who have been discharged therefrom and who have been prevented from being assessed from having paid the "usual" taxes and from being personally registered. It is the intention of this act that all such persons are within the meaning of the constitution relative to voting by soldiers.

ILLINOIS BANK ROBBED

HILLSBORO, ILL., July 24.—The State Bank of Donnellson, twelve miles from here was robbed early yesterday morning of from $75,000 to $115,000 in Liberty Bonds and other securities. The president of the bank declared that registered bonds and negotiable securities to the amount of $50,000 was taken and that an inventory of other missing securities such as unregistered Liberty Bonds will likely increase the loss to $115,000.

HUBBY SHOULD BE MORE CAREFUL IN
MARRYING HIS DATES

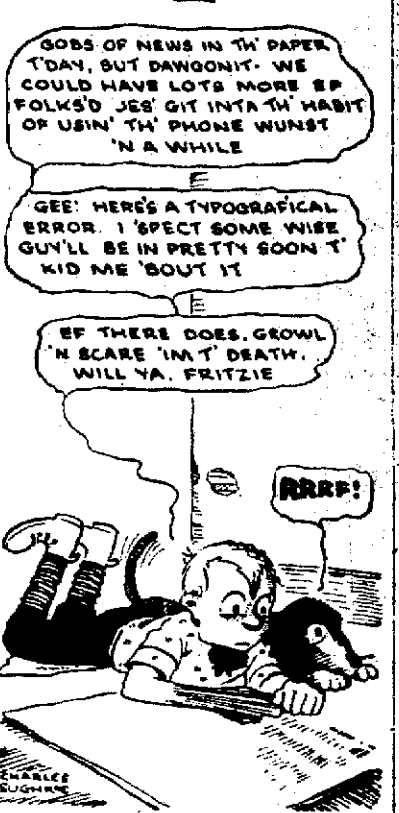

Some people are so gosh darned "pernickety," if you know what that means. But listen to this careful Officer Carlson got down on Third street last evening and you may tumble to what the term signifies.

While patrolling his beat down Third street and around the hose last evening about 9:30 the officer heard loud cat-calling and in the distance saw what purported to be two females in tow embrace. The nearer he approached the pair the more violent became their antics and when the policeman got within half a block of the couple he discovered from the scraps of language floating out upon the night air that there was little affection being wasted.

When he reached the spot he found one woman with her waist torn off while her adversary had a triangle hold on a shoulder strap or some other gewgaw that appeared to be supporting something somewhere. The officer pried the two scappers loose and demanded to know what the cause of the trouble was. And what do you suppose it was? Well, I want! One of those pesky women was berating the other one because the last named lady's husband had tried to make a date with her. Can you beat it? You bet you can't! But then how like a woman.

When a truce had been declared and the hate damsel was started down Pine street she hurled this parting shot at her badly worsted adversary. "Mind, you hussy, if you don't teach your husband better than to have him approach a lady on the street like he did me this evening I'll lick you again." She appeared to be mad enough to do it too.

MICKIE SAYS

CHICAGO DEPLORES
LACK OF AERIAL
SHIP LEGISLATION

CHICAGO, ILL., July 24.—Absence of laws governing the rights of aircraft will probably mean that there will be no criminal prosecution giving out of the horrible accident here on Monday afternoon when the "Wingfoot" crashed thru the skylight of the Illinois Savings and Trust Company and killed more than a dozen young men and girls. Governor Hoffman declares that the sad result of the accident as a result of the doubt jury investigation now being held will be the drafting of legislation restricting the flight of aircraft over cities. State Attorney Hayes is conducting his quest for evidence.

The "Wingfoot" victim died today. Martin "Calopy" father was the unfortunate man. He was burned by flaming gasoline.

TROUBLE AT LEAVENWORTH
MILITARY PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, July 24.—Arrival of troops from Camp Dodge, Riley and Grant today bid fair to put an end to the strike of convict soldiers confined to the Leavenworth prison. For several days the men have been on a strike and refuse to submit to prison authority. Some leniency has been shown towards them from the fact that their principal demand is that they be accorded the same treatment as the conscientious objectors who were released some time ago. Many of the ringleaders in the strike are serving petty sentences and for crimes not covered by the civil penal code. Commander Rice of the prison believes the matter will be settled today. It is believed that the men who refuse to come out of their cells are being fed on only bread and water. Two convicts who sought to escape last night were wounded by guards when they attempted to run past them.

EIGHT CARS OF GAS EXPLODE

BAYONNE, N. J., July 24.—Four were seriously injured and many others burned when eight tank cars of gasoline and naphtha exploded at the plant of the Texas Oil Company, setting fire to two storage houses. The cars exploded successively, the shocks being felt for two miles away. The cause of the explosion has not been learned. The flames were controlled after a general alarm had been turned in.

CAPITAL CITY QUIET LAST NIGHT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Police officials believe that the race riot reign of terror is at an end. Last night was quiet. No outbreaks were reported and there is not a sign of a return to riotous conditions. There is, however, no let-up in police diligence. Fatalities reached six today with the death of a marine who was shot early yesterday.

TAFT CONVERTED TO RESERVATIONS
OTHER DEVELOPMENTS ON LEAGUE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—Will H. Hayes, National Chairman of the Republican party refused to comment on the Taft letters regarding the reservation on the league of nations covenant here today. Hayes simply said, "the letters are self-explanatory, before the public and nothing that I would say would have any results or change the situation."

President Wilson knew of the Wm. H. Taft letters and the fact that they were to be put in the possession of Will Hayes over a week ago, it was said at the White House today. It is believed that a compromise on the league is now in the offing. The president scheduled no meetings with senators today and comparative quiet reigns in Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Important developments yesterday in the treaty fight in the senate were these:

- 1.—The foreign relations committee was advised that President Wilson will renew his attempt to get action from the committee for the appointment of a representative of the reparation commission. If this is done, there will be further bitter clash between the committee and the President, as the committee has already once rejected the President's proposal and had no intention of giving recognition to the treaty until it has been ratified.
- 2.—Copies of a letter sent by former President Taft to Chairman Will Hays, of the Republican National Committee, announcing his conversion to the belief that reservations should be made by the senate in the league of nations covenant, were received from Mr. Hays by several of the Republican senators. Mr. Taft's letter is now being used as the basis for a compromise between the Democrats and Republicans in the league fight.
- 3.—Republican senators who conferred with the President by his invitation, told him that a compromise with the League of Nations opponents will have to be made, and that the President should take the initiative in working out such a compromise.
- 4.—Senator Morris of Nebraska made public the letter which he sent to the President, declaring that he had decided to support the league, but with the understanding that the President should adopt the usual method of communicating his wishes to congress, instead of by private conference.
- 5.—The Taft letter announcing he had changed front on reservations was freely discussed among the senators. None of those who received the copies from Hays was inclined to make the text public, although they said they would be glad if Hays would do so.
- 6.—Hays was said to be in Indianapolis. Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota; Colt of Rhode Island; McNary, of Oregon; and Spencer, of Missouri, all received copies.
- 7.—The reservations suggested by Mr. Taft cover the points distinctly at issue in the league fight. They are directed toward clearing up the uncertainty regarding Article 10, the Monroe Doctrine and the right of withdrawal. Upon the question of Shantung, Mr. Taft was silent.
- 8.—Mr. Taft's reservations with respect to Article 10, provides that this article should be construed as being advisory instead of being binding upon the nations in the league and that congress should have the power to decide whether troops should be sent.
- 9.—A careful digest of the point in Mr. Taft's letter made by one of the senators to whom a copy was sent, is as follows:

1.—Provision is made for retirement from the league on two years' notice without reservation and that retirement shall be upon condition that the United States has fulfilled all its obligations as a member, this question of fulfillment to be determined by the council. The nations would be permitted to withdraw, and the question of damages arising out of any failure to fulfill its international obligations while a member of the league, will be determined by the machinery set up for that purpose.

2.—Self-governed colonies cannot be represented on the council if the home government is represented, or be included in any of these clauses where the parties to the dispute are excluded from any settlement.

3.—Functioning of the council under Article 18 shall be advisory only and not binding on the member, each of whom shall be free to determine his own obligation with in the case of the United States, would be determined by Congress.

4.—Difference between the nations regarding interpretation or the tariff are domestic questions not to be submitted to the league.

5.—The Monroe Doctrine is declared as a convention under international law, applicable to this hemisphere and the right of the United States shall not be challenged in objecting or preventing any attempt of a non-American nation to contravene the principle of the Monroe Doctrine.

6.—Without a waiver of any right on the part of the United States to withdraw from the League on an earlier date, the United States gives notice that it will withdraw in ten years.

HOODOO DAY FOR RAILROADS

July 23d seemed to be a hoodoo day on the railroads. In this section, a New York Central freight was wrecked near the N. Y. & P. Road, near Woodville, making it necessary for the made public the letter which he sent to the President, declaring that he had decided to support the league, but with the understanding that the President should adopt the usual method of communicating his wishes to congress, instead of by private conference.

STOCKS FIRM AT OPENING

NEW YORK, July 24.—Stocks were generally firm at the opening. Bethlehem Steel was inclined to sell off despite optimistic reports in all steel stocks. It opened at 104 1/2, up 1/2. S. & W. 112, up 1/2. Cent. 110 1/2, up 1/2. Cr. 144, up 1/2. N. Y. 115, up 1/2. P. 115, up 1/2.

U. S. WILL BUILD GIGANTIC LINERS

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The U. S. Shipping Board announced today that they would build two gigantic liners. The ships are to be one thousand feet long, carry a crew of one thousand officer and men and be propelled by four propellers. The speed requisite will be thirty knots an hour which will insure a schedule of less than four days to cross the Atlantic. The ships will be built in a manner that will allow of easy diverting to a commerce destroyer in the event of war.

New York City has had nineteen days continuous rainfall. Well, they wanted to be "wet" didn't they?

Since the appearance of that egg laying story there are a lot of Grit readers who are going to subscribe for the Literary Digest.

Ambassador Fletcher believes that Carranza is trying his best to maintain friendly relations with the United States. Probably that is about all that any ruler of Mexico can do.

With the announcement that ex-President Taft is in favor of reservations to the league covenant the last line of defense seems to have been broken. Now it is only a matter of time until safeguards can be thrown about the machinery of the league.

What can we do with the fellow who is continually kicking about something? Those fellows who have nothing to do but look for faults and complain of them to their much pestered fellow citizens. According to some fellows there is nothing right and all is wrong.

Yesterday afternoon's accident at the Knepp crossing on the New York Central railroad near Wallacetown should serve to make sure the proposed change of State road from Bigler to Blue Ball, which change will eliminate no less than six of these man-traps without adding to the length of the road, while securing a better grade throughout.

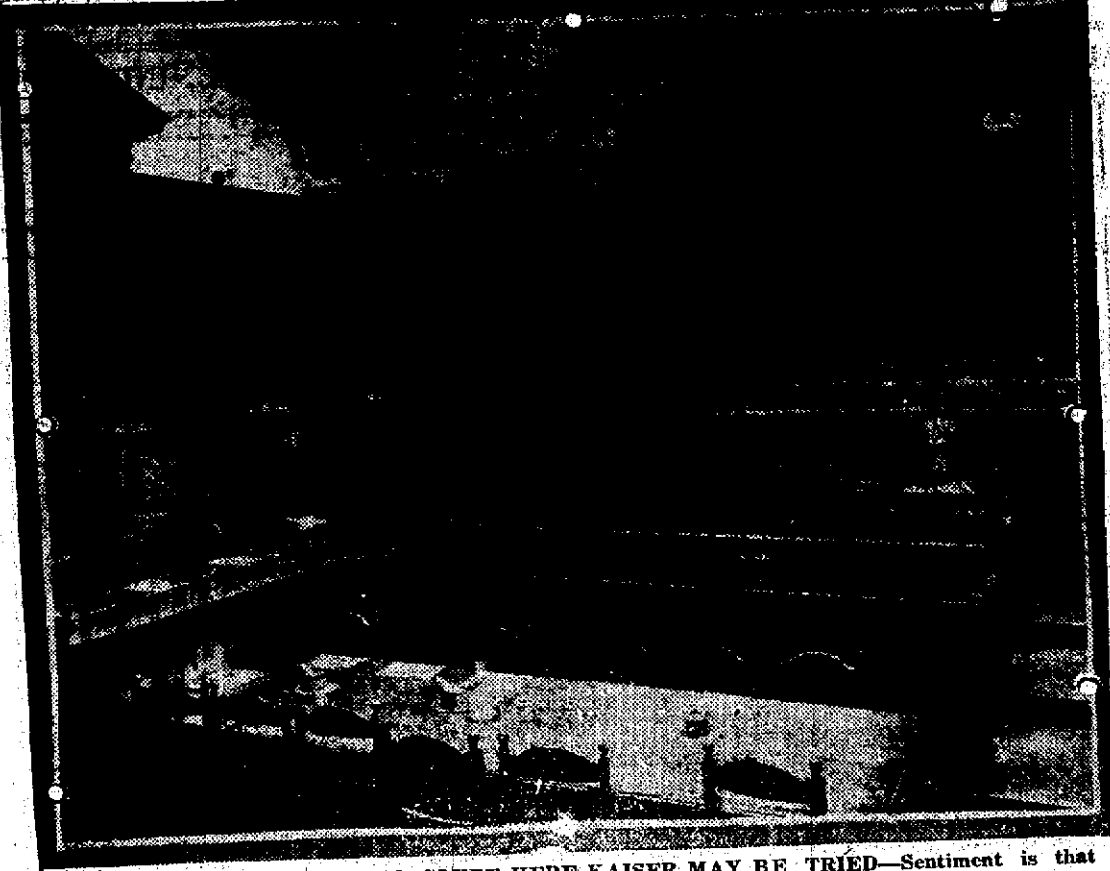

THE TENACITY OF OUR PRESIDENT

The capacity of Woodrow Wilson for work is a matter of admiration of friend and foe. His occupancy of the presidential chair has been a period of world turmoil and strife. Every day brought a new problem or a new series of problems. Great day after day he has faced Mrs. Wilson's times without number, each one calling for new efforts, new work and taxing the physical strength of the man. Only rarely has there been any signs of weakness or of his capacity for going through the routine of his office without anything of keeping his hand on the handle of the peace conference. No man can ever accuse Mr. Wilson of being a drone. Thru all the days when governmental departments were jammed with work when departmental heads were floundering around undecided and hesitating about a course to pursue, the work of the chief executive was always up to the minute. Punctuality is a motto with Woodrow Wilson. Painstaking exactness in detail is a rule with him. A clean desk at the end of the work day is a habit. Perhaps no one has ever seen the shadow of a parallel between Woodrow and Teddy but both men are alike in respect to the amount of work they do in a day, their ability to keep in close touch with so many diversified interests and their general knowledge of world events.

Many men who have occupied the presidential chair would have found the prosecution of the war and the endless details of demobilization and reconstruction a steel band which would have bound them to stay in Washington, and without entering into the propriety of the Wilson visit to Europe, it is submitted that, somehow, Mr. Wilson found time to go to Europe. He had hardly set his feet under the mahogany at Washington until he began to take on august senators, four at a time, and although many of the bouts are declared a draw, he shows no signs of throwing up the sponge yet. His chair seat will hardly have become warm before he will be off on a nation-wide speaking tour, a feat which would tax the physical strength of most any man.

And last but not least it will be remembered that Mr. Wilson, in addition to his arduous state duties, found time to woo, win and wed the prettiest lady in Washington. Some job for one of his age, looks (beg pardon) and close application to state affairs.

WOODLAND "DEFECTIVE" TO THE RESCUE

It has long been very well said that "in onion there is strength," and it has also been very generally observed that two heads are better than one even though in a general assemblage such as marked the recent clandestine gathering of this year's Chautauqua guarantors there was a "cabbage head" or two while several large "carrotty beans" loomed luminously in the background. But to get back to our story.

These Chautauqua guarantors are not nearly so anxious to locate the demon sign tacker as they were, and the reason for this change of front or heart or temperature of pedal extremities is due in large measure to the military strategy of the recent gathering. During the darkest moments of the debate when one of the few liberal fellows in the gathering made a motion to settle the entire difficulty by paying the $2000 fine into the borough treasury, a "carrot head" arose and in a burst of eloquence opined that "we're not in such bad shape as she looks, by heck". He then proceeded to remark that the Mayor or his minions including those of the Public Safety Department had set the example and really contributed to the delinquency of the sign-tacking fiend by plastering every telephone pole and at least half the shade trees about town and on the road to and from the Park with traffic and other signs on the 4th day of July last.

"Jeff" immediately dissolved the assemblage, convened the "Big Five" and War Strategy Board in executive session and a Woodland "defective" was employed to ferret out degree of alleged guilt of the borough officials. The Woodland man reported last evening and a meeting of the different boards was called for midnight tonight to pass upon the report and map out a plan for future action.

Meanwhile the Chautauqua is coming the week of July 29th to August 4th, and you will miss a rare treat if you fail to attend every session. Even the best of men condone some law violations at times.

"Y" LOSES HOT BATTLE TO HARBISON WALKER

The "jinx" persisted in staying with the "Y" team last night when they lost to the Brick Yard team by the score of 6 to 5 in eight innings. When the game started it looked very much as if the "Y" team was playing the Cuban Giants as the Harbison-Walker had a few of their dusky warriors playing for them.

The "Y" team got one over in the first on Roseberry's walk, his steal of second and third and Clarks out at first. The brick yard came back and got one in their half. In the third inning the brick yard forged ahead by scoring 3 runs. The "Y" got one in the first half of the fourth and tied it up in the sixth and forged ahead one run in the seventh on Clark's long two-base hit to left with a man on second. The brick yard tied it up in their half and won out in the eighth on Lawhead's error and Council's single to left. The score:—

COLLEGE FIGHTER AFTER A FIGHT WITH DEMPSEY

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 24—Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, is about to set a new record in pugilism. You can count back as far as you like, but you will be unable to find in the history of fistcuffs any mauler who ever attained any greatness who got his schooling within the walls of a university. Now, Drake students are out to batter that record to small pieces through the presentation to the world of Carl Broadley.

Broadley is a delicate youth of six feet, four inches, and 246 pounds. His home is in Texas, where they make 'em decidedly rough, and he wants to fight for a living—rather a high-flying ambition for a mere collegian, since box-fighters have begun to make millions in the game.

Off-seasons, young Broadley slays and rounds up steers, whips the country-side, and trains for football. Coach Mark Banks, old-time football star, believes the youth he is training daily in the Drake gymnasium can take the measure of Jack Dempsey. He declares that in spite of his size Banks is faster than any heavyweight the world ever has seen, and in this class he places the new champion, even in spite of the things Jack has been doing to championship aspirants for many a day.

Banks probably hasn't given much thought to how hard the big boys fall when they stop wallops, with their chin from fists carrying the weight or a Dempsey, but he can be excused for that if he really thinks he has unearthed a champion. For champions are practically as good as a young mint nowadays.

"Broadley isn't championship material right now," Banks said in Des Moines, "but proper handling within the next year will bring him around. I believe a session on the gridiron this fall will harden him a bit and make him a greater boxing possibility."

"The big fellow is just crazy to fight, and you can bet he's going to exhibit around here this winter."

Miss Elizabeth McBlain left yesterday for Johnston, where she has accepted a position with the Penn. Public Corporation.

Our Business Plan Change Saturday, August 2nd.

A FRANK STATEMENT

Twenty-two years ago we started this business with an idea of making not only a living, but a little more. We have made an ordinary profit as grocery profits go. We have bought carefully, watched stocks closely, sold to the best advantage. We have kept expenses down to a minimum. And yet—our net profit is an imaginary thing. We cast up our accounts and realize that to find an actual net profit is an utter impossibility.

The reasons for this condition are apparent. Our book accounts—good, bad and indifferent from a credit standpoint—represent thousands of dollars we should have to our credit in the bank as the result of our years of painstaking care in the conduct of this business. Our delivery trucks, their initial cost and the continual cost of upkeep and operation, represent a sum far beyond the conception of anyone not familiar with the situation.

All these things force us to one end. With the unsettled conditions that exist today we find it necessary to make a radical change in our business plan in order to survive.

To this end our books will close to all credit customers on Tuesday, July 29th at closing time.

The store will be closed for three days for rearrangement of stocks and prices and when we open on Saturday, August 2nd, this business will be conducted on an absolute and positive cash-and-carry-plan.

The same high standard of quality and store service will prevail. Prices will be consistently low with our new plan. We will conduct this store on a mutually profitable basis. We'll both save.

BOY SCOUTS

BOY SCOUT "VETS," TOO.

The veterans used to be gray haired—faces deeply marked, somewhat stoop shouldered, one empty sleeve or one pinned-up, empty trousers leg. Their deeds are already in our school histories.

But there is a new generation of veterans today. Young fellows, nearly every one of them. Not stoop shouldered; very cheery indeed and with good cause. Not yet long enough returned from the battles to have held an annual reunion. But veterans nevertheless. Saviors of their country. Saviors of the world.

And there is a still newer generation of veterans coming upon the great world stage. These have not been to war. They may never go to war. And because of them—in part at least—the world itself may never know war again.

These newer veterans are the young fellows who have been five years in the boy scout movement. They are first-class scouts. They have taken upon themselves the scout obligations for life. They have registered with local scout authorities for service to the community in any emergency.

Scouting principles imbedded in a boy's nature will continue to operate in his life whether or not he wears the uniform and the badge. But in order that the movement shall affect the quality of citizenship of the whole nation most effectively, scouting principles should continue to operate through every scout in the active, positive form which the veteran scout embodies in his allegiance.

A SCOUT PARADISE.

I know of a wonderful spot for a camp on the edge of a shimmering shore. And a lake that's as blue as the sky over you, and as sweet as the wind at your door. There the red-winged black-bird calls to his mates to bathe in the pickering pond. And the banks overflow with the blossoms that grow at the touch of Fair Nature's wand. There the soft breezes whisper the secrets of rest while away on the big lake we row. And the swimming is fine in the summer sunshine, and at evening the campfire aglow. There's a jolly old lodge with a jolly old name—8-11-12 in the old fire place. And a jolly old chef with a jolly old smile on the front of his jolly old face. There we pitch our tents with a speed that's immense and we smooth out our bunks with delight. In the blankets we crawl and somewhere we fall, to the tune of the sweet sounds of night. Why not join in our song as we ramble along, and gather your troop on the way? You will hit up scout's pace when you get near the place, and be ready for work or for play.
—By R. N. Berry.

SCOUTS BOOSTED IN BOSTON.

A letter to the Boston Transcript, signed among others by Charles W. Elliot and A. Lawrence Lowell, says in part:

We are entering an era of readjustments in wages and prices. In many cases lack of employment and clashes of opinion between employers and employees will be inevitable. Unless we adopt every reasonable means to promote right understanding and good feeling between our various groups—unless we keep to the front the importance of hearty co-operation—much hard feeling is sure to be generated, and we need only read the newspapers to be warned of the possible results.

We cannot expect a complete safeguard against this danger, but the public is coming to recognize that the boy scout movement gives considerable protection, because it promotes mutual understanding and good feeling.

BOHEMIAN BOY SCOUTS.

Scouts in Prague sounds like the real thing in scouting. A letter from there reads:

"Bohemia's boy scouts of the First Scout troop at Prague in the Czechoslovakian republic send greetings to their brother scouts in America."

"Members of this troop are river scouts; all round sportsmen who row, yacht, canoe, tramp, swim, etc. In winter they skate and ski, and go camping with sleds and ski."

"The troop has four canoes, two rowing boats, two sailing yachts and a motorboat, their houseboat, a ship 13 feet long with club rooms in the middle for 20 to 30 boys. The ship lies at anchor in Prague."

SCOUTING ALIVE AT COLLEGE.

The University of Pittsburgh has adopted scouting with enthusiasm, says Chancellor S. B. McCormick. Ten faculty members are instructing in scouting subjects, and courses in camp cookery and the duties of scoutmasters have been started.

SOLDIER THANKS BOY SCOUT.

Scout Harry W. Lyons of Milford, Mass., is justly proud of a letter received from a soldier in the army of occupation. The doughboy had read of the scout's splendid work in selling War Savings stamps and was moved to write:

"Here's the hand of a soldier for your earnest work in keeping me fed, clothed and equipped. I have done my best, and you have done as much if not more than I."

GARAGE MUST KEEP RECORDS OF ALL CARS ENTERING

HARRISBURG, July 24.—Proprietors of public garages throughout Pennsylvania have had their attention called by letter to the provisions of the act approved by Governor Sproul June 30, requiring that records must be kept of all cars stored or left for repairs in every garage in the state. The provisions of this act are now in force. A special form has been prepared by the State Highway department; and this must be used by the garage men. Records must be kept in ink or indelible pencil and shall be open to inspection of police or other authorities for one year from date. A stiff fine is provided for failure to maintain the record.

Police authorities declare that the keeping of these records will do much to end the stealing of automobiles. The record sheet contains spaces wherein a complete description of the car is kept—the make of machine, manufacturer's number, make of engine, number of engine and other information. The sheet has been prepared so that it will be of great assistance to garage men in keeping "tabs" on their own business.

Highway Commissioner Sadler in his letter to garage owners and operators sets forth the entire section covering record keeping. It is section 8 of House Bill 395 (Act 284) as follows:

"That the proprietor of every public garage and motor vehicle repair shop shall cause a record to be kept after the manner to be prescribed by the State Highway Commissioner of the names of any and all persons owning or having charge of any motor vehicle stored left for repair, or any other purpose at any such public garage or motor vehicle repair shop, together with the make, manufacturer's number, name of state of registration and the registration number of such motor vehicles. Such record shall be kept in ink or indelible pencil, and shall be open to the inspection of police officers or other proper authorities. Such records shall be retained and be available for a period of one year after entry but not thereafter. He shall also immediately notify the local police authorities and State Highway Commissioner of any such motor vehicle wherein the manufacturer's number or mark has apparently been altered, obliterated or removed."

With the Highway Department receiving complete information concerning stolen cars and garages keeping records of cars received or stored, it will be possible quickly to locate stolen automobiles if they remain in Pennsylvania.

WEALTHY MEN FIND LIFE INSURANCE EXCELLENT THING

The most heavily insured man in the United States is Rufus W. Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia, according to figures supplied to The American by the Spectator Co., of No. 135 William street, and the Insurance Press, of No. 80 Maiden Lane, reliable trade publications. Mr. Wanamaker's policies aggregate $4,500,000.

Pierre du Pont, of Delaware Powder Trust fame, follows, with a $4,000,000 policy. Next is John Wanamaker, Sr., with policies aggregating $3,000,000.

Other large policies are held by J. Pierpont Morgan, $2,500,000; Percy Rockefeller, $2,000,000; Henry Francis du Pont, $1,250,000; Julius Rosenwald, $2,000,000, and Harry T. Dunn, $1,800,000.

17 Over Million Mark

There are approximately seventeen other policy holders in the United States whose life protection securities reach and range above the $1,000,000 mark.

The figures supplied, it is stated, are subject to revision by addition of special war policies taken out by insurers who had business abroad, or whose affairs demanded extra policy protection. Thus it is regarded as probable that most of those quoted as policy holders of $1,000,000 or over increased their insurance during the war.

Policies of about $500,000 are quite common in the insurance world and not deemed worthy of special comment. There is scarcely a successful business man who does not carry upward of $100,000 protection.

The list of heavy insurers, however, gives some strange contrasts in the matter of individual insurance holdings, taken in ratio to reputed wealth.

John D. Rockefeller, for instance, is listed as holding but $50,000 in insurance, though it is probable that his policies exceed this amount. Likewise James Stillman, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jacob Ruppert and a score more of New York's reputed millionaires hold comparatively small policies, some under $50,000.

Many of the most interesting figures of insurance in the other hand, have preferred to keep secret their life insurance, and are not mentioned at all in any of the data subjected by insurance statisticians. This seems to be the general rule with women risks, as comparatively few are found in public records, with only one, Mrs. Charles Netcher, of Chicago, rated as taking out over $1,000,000 in policies.

A few of the larger policy holders and the amounts for which they are listed as insured follow:

Gimbel Brothers, $1,500,000; W. P. Bonbright, $1,000,000; Sir Mortimer Davis, $1,000,000; Henry P. Davison, $1,000,000; Frank A. Vanderlip, $700,000; Reginald C. Vanderbilt, $300,000; J. H. Ballantine, $1,000,000; H. M. Byllesby, $1,250,000; Julius Fleischmann, $1,000,000.

There are many more $1,000,000 policy holders among less well known capitalists.

Movie Stars Insured

A form of life insurance that has resulted in large policies of late years is that assigned to a corporation by an officer or employee. Among such assignments are policies aggregating $1,700,000 in favor of Eugene O'Brien and Norma Talmadge, movie stars. The Selznick Corporation is the beneficiary.

Ernest W. Marland, of the Marland Refining Company, of Ponca City, Okla., holds a $1,000,000 life policy which has been assigned to the refining company. A life assignment has been made by Marion Travis, president of the Mid-Co. Petroleum Company, Tulsa, Okla. The amount involved also is $1,000,000.

Many wealthy men are said to be taking out sufficient insurance to cover the inheritance taxes on their estates.

1919 HUNTERS TAGS WILL BE GREEN

A late dispatch from Harrisburg says the hunters' license arm tags for 1919 are now in the hands of the state printer under a rush order, so that they will be ready for issue to men who want to hunt blackbirds on August 1, when the season starts. Therefore these birds have not been heard from until September 1. The 1919 tags will be green in color. It is the plan to send them to county treasurers as soon as possible, so that they can be issued promptly. Last year there were over 300,000 hunters in every taken out in spite of the number of men who had entered the army or navy, and it is believed that this number will be exceeded in 1919.

MIS-BRANDED FEEDS

As a result of recent investigation of the sale of feeds, especially in the Philadelphia district, it was found by the Bureau of Chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, that a few brands of horse feed were being sold which were misbranded, and in violation of the Feeding Stuff Law. The sale of one brand, "PUL-MOR HORSE FEED" was the cause of several prosecutions being ordered by the department and resulted in the dealers being fined $50 each for such sales. The violations referred to consisted largely of the use of oat hulls, and an inferior feed product called Flax Plant Refuse. These feeds were falsely guaranteed, contained a large amount of low grade fibrous material and exceeded the amount of crude fibre permitted by the law.

Several brands of poultry feed were also involved in the actions taken as it contained a large amount of whole weed seeds. The law distinctly prohibits the presence of weed seeds in feeds sold in this state. The fact of the sacks being labeled to show the presence of weed seeds does not lessen or overcome the offence. The Department is making a special campaign against the sale of such feeds and dealers are cautioned against handling these or other brands which are clearly sold contrary to the provisions of the law.

The law has been in force for several years and has not been changed in its application to feeds containing weed seeds and low grade fibrous by-products. Dealers, therefore, should be familiar with the requirements if they desire to avoid being held responsible for illegal sales.

The names of unregistered brands of feed which are offered to the trade can be obtained upon request. All dealers, as well as consumers, are urged to co-operate with the department in the enforcement of the Feeding Stuff Law.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

There are rumors upon rumors floating around in business circles in this town of another brick yard locating near the borough line if not within the confines of the borough itself. The Progress representative heard reports of this new industry several weeks ago, but could glean nothing more definite than that parties representing a Mount Union company had been in town looking for a site upon which to erect a new yard, and had actually taken options on several plots of ground. Nothing more definite than this could be gleaned. Now comes a rumor to the effect that ground has actually been purchased, but its location is not stated. Curwensville people will welcome this new industry with open arms, as they will any other industry that will give employment to the town's male population. The town is vastly in need of more industrial works and the business men and others will make great effort in landing one or more ere the winter months actually set in. Let every citizen "set up and take notice," get busy and the industries will hunt the town up and look the situation over. A great many of the young men are "striking out" and going into Ohio and other states to labor, where if they could be employed in their home town at fair wages, the migration would soon end. Curwensville organized a chamber of commerce a year or two ago, but it soon became defunct for a lack of interest.

A. Z. Wolf, Sr., accompanied by several associates, made a trip to Brookville on Tuesday afternoon and transacted business.

A bevy of camp fire girls from Clearfield who have been camping along the river above the finishing tannery, are a magnet which draw a bunch of the Boy Scouts in that direction every evening.

Candidates for county office visited Curwensville yesterday and one could hardly walk a square without bumping into one or more of them. Can

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region, generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and leggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON. (By Mail).—The first attempt to fly the Atlantic from London to Buenos Aires will be staged in August, if plans of British airship manufacturers do not miscarry.

Vickers, Limited, manufacturers of the Vickers-Vimy airplane, which, piloted by Captain Sir John Alcock and Lieut. Sir Arthur Brown, spanned the ocean between Newfoundland and Ireland, are now building a huge airship which they hope to have completed by August.

It is being built along the lines of the R-34 and has been christened the R-80. In addition to a large crew the airship will carry ten passengers, all of whom have booked their seats at $2,500 per seat.

Three of those who have booked passage are Sir Woodman Burridge, his wife, Lady Woodman, and R. H. Griffith. Sir Woodman and Griffith are the directing heads of Harrod's, which has stores in Buenos Aires and London.

Lady Woodman, if the flight is successful, will have the distinction of being the first woman to cross the ocean by other than boat.

It is figured the trip will be made in four days, saving weeks of travel. Discussing the commercial use of aviation in the future between South America and Europe, Sir Woodman said he did not believe it would offer serious competition to steamers. "It will work wonders in the way of passenger traveling and will also be useful in carrying styles, jewelry and silks," said Sir Woodman, "but it would be too costly to ship goods."

He expressed confidence that eventually an aerial mail and passenger route will be established between Europe and South America.

He will return to London through the United States where he will investigate American department store methods.

Liquid Beevo has no kien, but the new officer appears to have.

Hats That Interpret Midsummer

Dress hats for midsummer, as compared to other millinery, are as orchids compared to other lovely blossoms. These millinery blooms are the most fragile, most splendid of all, the fairest and the shortest lived. They are midsummer interpreted in hats by designers whose fancies are unhampered by thoughts of anything but beauty. They look to the sheerest fabrics and to the most beautiful colors to translate their thoughts into millinery.

In the group of three hats made for the heart of summer, two are of printed georgette and one of plain georgette in the sheerest quality. The same wide-brimmed, graceful shapes appear developed in laces, malines and nets. Drills usually have lines, in flowing curves about the face and crowns are often flexible. The hat at the right of the group is a lovely example. A yamie flower motif against a black ground provides color. There is no trimming except the sash of velvet ribbon, in one of the colors in the crepe, that is brought about the crown and tied in a bow at the back.

In the hat at the left there is a hint of sport styles in the covering. It is of white crepe georgette with gay figures of Rintin-tin and Nanette disappearing themselves over its surface. A covered silk cord with small tassels at the ends dispenses itself in a careless bow on the crown to answer "present" in case any one asks for the whereabouts of tramping.

In the last hat, georgette is shirred over a wire frame with a wide ruffle flowing about the brim edge. This is one of a few models in which the crown is not flexible. Although in this particular hat there are no flowers or fruit in the trimming it is an exception to the rule, the designer having placed a sash of ribbon about the crown, tied in a generous but simple bow near the front.

Petticoat Substitute

The long, slim suit and dress skirts almost make the wearing of petticoats an impossibility. But we may be just as modestly and comfortably clad; for there are the long bloomers or pantalettes are usually chosen in dark suit colors and may be had ankle length or shorter and with or without ruffles. A new style has an accordion platted piece set in just above the shoe tops. For summer the short silk jersey bloomers in flesh and pink with uneven insets of lace at the knee, are perhaps the newest. Camisoles of silk jersey with lace or embroidered in pink and blue silk are also very new.

ROUMANIAN ARMY LED BY BELA KUN

VIENNA, July 23rd (Delayed)—Hungarian Reds continuing their offensive against the Roumanians advanced along the east bank of the Tisza river. Reports state that the Red offensive is being directed by Bela Kun. This apparently refutes the reports that Bela Kun has been ousted as head of the Hungarian Communist government or means that he has returned to power. The Reds in their drive have captured two important towns between Budapest and the west. They crossed the river at several places. The troops are commanded by Commissary Landler and former Lieutenant Jular, Chief of the General Staff. It has been learned that the Reds will attack in several directions. Also that the Roumanian Whites are to be attacked by an army of three divisions and thirty-three batteries of artillery.

TRUSTS ANNOUNCES ATTY. GENERAL

WASHINGTON, July 24—Attorney General Palmer set at rest reports that prosecutions of anti-trust cases will be definitely discontinued when he declared today that the cases will be taken up in October where they were left off when the war started. The case of alleged combination of steel companies will likely be the first to have attention by argument before the Supreme Court. Palmer also announced that the packers would come in for some attention but added "I will have something definite to say about this about August." The Attorney General is closely following the House and Senate committees in their work of investigating the packers.

MONTANA AND IDAHO TIMBER LANDS BURN

MISSOULA, Montana, July 24—The forest fire which has been raging here is still threatening the city of St. Regis. Thomson Falls though menaced, will probably escape injury. This section is experiencing its greatest forest fire since 1910. Already there have been 250,000 acres burned over in Montana and 150,000 in northern Idaho. The timber loss is well over one hundred million feet.

SCALE ADJUSTMENT
NOT TO BE MADE
UNTIL OCTOBER

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 23.—There will be no adjustment of the wage scale in District No. 2 of the United Mine Workers until after the national convention at Indianapolis, early in September, according to prominent operators in this section today. The matter is expected to come to a climax when the next convention of the district is held in October.

For the first time in the history of the mine workers' organization, Johnstown will get this year's convention. The miners contend that their war-time scale with the operators is effective until the peace treaty is ratified and the larger operators of the district have agreed to grant this concession, especially in view of the fact that production is at low ebb and may not improve greatly before the deliberations on the new scale take place at the convention here.

All members of the cast are requested to be present at the time assigned to them by Miss Chorpennington tonight so that every detail may be worked out to a nicety.

ALL SERVICE MEN
ENTITLED TO VOTE

The last legislature passed an act providing for the voting of service men who returned to their home districts too late to register, be assessed, and pay taxes.

Need Not be Assessed

Any soldier, sailor or marine in the service, or who has served in the Army or Navy of the United States and who has returned to his home shall be entitled to vote in his respective election district as a soldier, sailor or marine, notwithstanding that such soldier, sailor or marine has not been assessed and has not paid the "usual" taxes, or has not personally registered in the district in which he resides; provided that such election at which he offers to vote shall occur at such time as he has prevented such soldier, sailor or marine from being assessed and from having paid his "usual" taxes, and where the same is necessary from having been personally registered after his return to his home as is required in the case of election by the constitution.

No person shall be allowed to vote under the provisions of this act unless he produces evidence satisfactory to the election officers that he is entitled to vote as a soldier, sailor or marine under the provisions of this act; and unless he shall produce to the election officers a receipt from proper tax collector setting forth that such person has paid a county tax of ten cents. The several tax collectors are hereby authorized to receive such tax of ten cents and issue a receipt therefor. All such taxes shall be paid to the county treasurer as provided by law in the case of other taxes.

Penalties for Misuse

Any person who shall vote under the provisions without being entitled to do so under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $100 and in default of the payment of the fine and costs shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding 90 days.

This act shall apply to all soldiers, sailors and marines in the service of the Army and Navy of the United States as well as those who have been discharged therefrom and who have been prevented from being assessed from having paid the "usual" taxes and from being personally registered. It is the intention of this act that all such persons are within the meaning of the constitution relative to voting by soldiers.

ILLINOIS BANK ROBBED

HILLSBORO, ILL., July 24.—The State Bank of Donnellson, twelve miles from here was robbed early yesterday morning of from $75,000 to $115,000 in Liberty Bonds and other securities. The president of the bank declared that registered bonds and negotiable securities to the amount of $50,000 was taken and that an inventory of other missing securities such as unregistered Liberty Bonds will likely increase the loss to $115,000.

HUBBY SHOULD BE
MARRYING HIS DATES

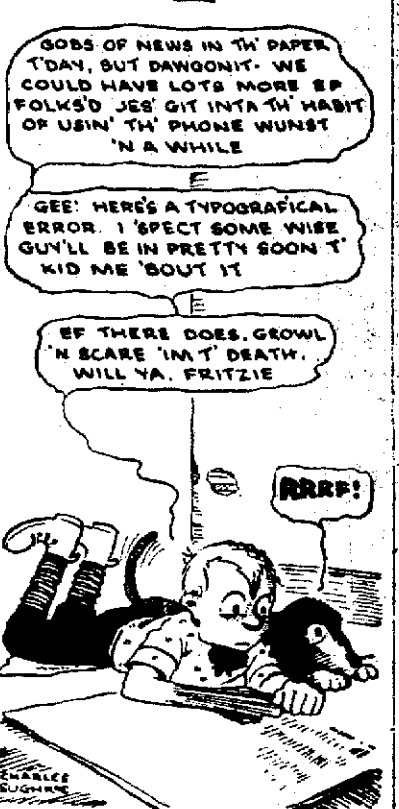

Some people are so gosh darned "pernickety," if you know what that means. But listen to this careful Officer Carlson got down on Third street last evening and you may tumble to what the term signifies.

While patrolling his beat down Third street and around the hose last evening about 9:30 the officer heard loud catcalling and a man and a woman in the distance saw what purported to be two females in tow embrace. The nearer he approached the pair the more violent became their antics and when the policeman got within half a block of the couple he discovered from the scraps of language floating out upon the night air that there was little affection being wasted.

When he reached the spot he found one woman with her waist torn off while her adversary had a triangle hold on a shoulder strap or some other gewgaw that appeared to be supporting something somewhere. The officer pried the two scoundrels loose and demanded to know what the cause of the trouble was. And what do you suppose it was? Well, I want! One of those pesky women was berating the other one because the last named lady's husband had tried to make a date with her. Can you beat it? You bet you can't! But then how like a woman.

When a truce had been declared and the hate damsel was started down Pine street she hurled this parting shot at her badly worsted adversary. "Mind, you hussy, if you don't teach your husband better than to have him approach a lady on the street like he did me this evening I'll lick you again." She appeared to be mad enough to do it too.

CHICAGO DEPLORES
LACK OF AERIAL
SHIP LEGISLATION

CHICAGO, ILL., July 24.—Absence of laws governing the rights of aircraft will probably mean that there will be no criminal prosecution giving out of the horrible accident here on Monday afternoon when the "Wingfoot" crashed thru the skylight of the Illinois Savings and Trust Company and killed more than a dozen young men and girls. Clarence Hoffman declares that the sad result of the accident as a result of the double jury investigation now being held will be the drafting of legislation restricting the flight of aircraft over cities. State Attorney Hayes is conducting his quest for evidence.

The "Wingfoot" victim died today. Martin Calopy, father was the unfortunate man. He was burned by flaming gasoline.

MILITARY PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, July 24.—Arrival of troops from Camp Dodge, Riley and Grant today bids fair to put an end to the strike of convict soldiers confined to the Leavenworth prison. For several days the men have been on a strike and refuse to submit to prison authority. Some leniency has been shown towards them from the fact that their principal demand is that they be accorded the same treatment as the conscientious objectors who were released some time ago. Many of the ringleaders in the strike are serving petty sentences and for crimes not covered by the civil penal code. Commander Rice of the prison believes the matter will be settled today. It is believed that the men who refuse to come out of their cells are being fed on only bread and water. Two convicts who sought to escape last night were wounded by guards when they attempted to run past them.

EIGHT CARS OF GAS EXPLODE

BAYONNE, N. J., July 24.—Four were seriously injured and many others burned when eight tank cars of gasoline and naphtha exploded at the plant of the Texas Oil Company, setting fire to two storage houses. The cars exploded successively, the shocks being felt for two miles away. The cause of the explosion has not been learned. The flames were controlled after a general alarm had been turned in.

NIGHT

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Police officials believe that the race riot reign of terror is at an end. Last night was quiet. No outbreaks were reported and there is not a sign of a return to riotous conditions. There is, however, no let-up in police diligence. Fatalities reached six today with the death of a marine who was shot early yesterday.

TAFT CONVERTED TO RESERVATIONS
OTHER DEVELOPMENTS ON LEAGUE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—Will H. Hayes, National Chairman of the Republican party refused to comment on the Taft letters regarding the reservation on the league of nations covenant here today. Hayes simply said, "the letters are self-explanatory, before the public and nothing that I would say would have any results or change the situation."

President Wilson knew of the Wm. H. Taft letters and the fact that they were to be put in the possession of Will Hayes over a week ago, it was said at the White House today. It is believed that a compromise on the league is now in the offing. The president scheduled no meetings with senators today and comparative quiet reigns in Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Important developments yesterday in the treaty fight in the senate were these:

- 1.—The foreign relations committee was advised that President Wilson will renew his attempt to get action from the committee for the appointment of a representative of the reparation commission. If this is done, there will be further bitter clash between the committee and the President, as the committee has already once rejected the President's proposal and had no intention of giving recognition to the treaty until it has been ratified.
- 2.—Copies of a letter sent by former President Taft to Chairman Will Hays, of the Republican National Committee, announcing his conversion to the belief that reservations should be made by the senate in the league of nations covenant, were received from Mr. Hays by several of the Republican senators. Mr. Taft's letter is now being used as the basis for a compromise between the Democrats and Republicans in the league fight.
- 3.—Republican senators, who conferred with the President by his invitation, told him that a compromise with the League of Nations opponents will have to be made, and that the President must take the initiative in working out a compromise.
- 4.—Senator Morris, of Nebraska, made public the letter which he sent to the President, declining the invitation to the League of Nations conference at Woodland, and two men were injured and several hurt in a fight on the Pennsylvania Railroad.
- 5.—The Monroe Doctrine is included in any of these clauses and developments yesterday in the treaty fight in the senate were these:
- 6.—Without a waiver of any right on the part of the United States to withdraw from the League on an earlier date, the United States gives notice that it will withdraw in ten years.

HOODOO DAY FOR RAILROADS

July 23d seemed to be a hoodoo day on the railroads. In this section, a New York Central freight was derailed near the town of Woodland, Pa., and a passenger train was derailed near the town of Woodland, Pa., and a passenger train was derailed near the town of Woodland, Pa.

STOCKS FIRM AT OPENING

NEW YORK, July 24.—Stocks were generally firm at the opening. Bethlehem Steel was inclined to sell off despite optimistic reports in all steel stocks. It opened at 104 1/2, up 1/2. S. & W. 112, up 1/2. Cent. 110 1/2, up 1/2. Cr. 144, up 1/2. W. 110, up 1/2. P. 110, up 1/2.

NEW YORK CITY, July 24.—The Bethlehem Steel Company today declared the regular 1 1/2 per cent dividend on its common stock, classes A and B, payable September 15th. The extra dividend was eliminated. The company issued a statement in which it said that they thought it best to conserve the resources of the company in view of existing conditions.

U. S. WILL BUILD GIGANTIC LINERS

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The U. S. Shipping Board announced today that they would build two gigantic liners. The ships are to be one thousand feet long, carry a crew of one thousand officer and men and be propelled by four propellers. The speed requisite will be thirty knots an hour which will insure a schedule of less than four days to cross the Atlantic. The ships will be built in a manner that will allow of easy diverting to a commerce destroyer in the event of war.

Since the appearance of that egg laying story there are a lot of Grit readers who are going to subscribe for the Literary Digest.

Ambassador Fletcher believes that Carranza is trying his best to maintain friendly relations with the United States. Probably that is about all that any ruler of Mexico can do.

With the announcement that ex-President Taft is in favor of reservations to the league covenant the last line of defense seems to have been broken. Now it is only a matter of time until safeguards can be thrown about the machinery of the league.

What can we do with the fellow who is continually kicking about something? Those fellows who have nothing to do but look for faults and complain of them to their much pestered fellow citizens. According to some fellows there is nothing right and all is wrong.

Yesterday afternoon's accident at the Knepp crossing on the New York Central railroad near Wallacetown should serve to make sure the proposed change of State road from Bigler to Blue Ball, which change will eliminate no less than six of these man-traps without adding to the length of the road, while securing a better grade throughout.

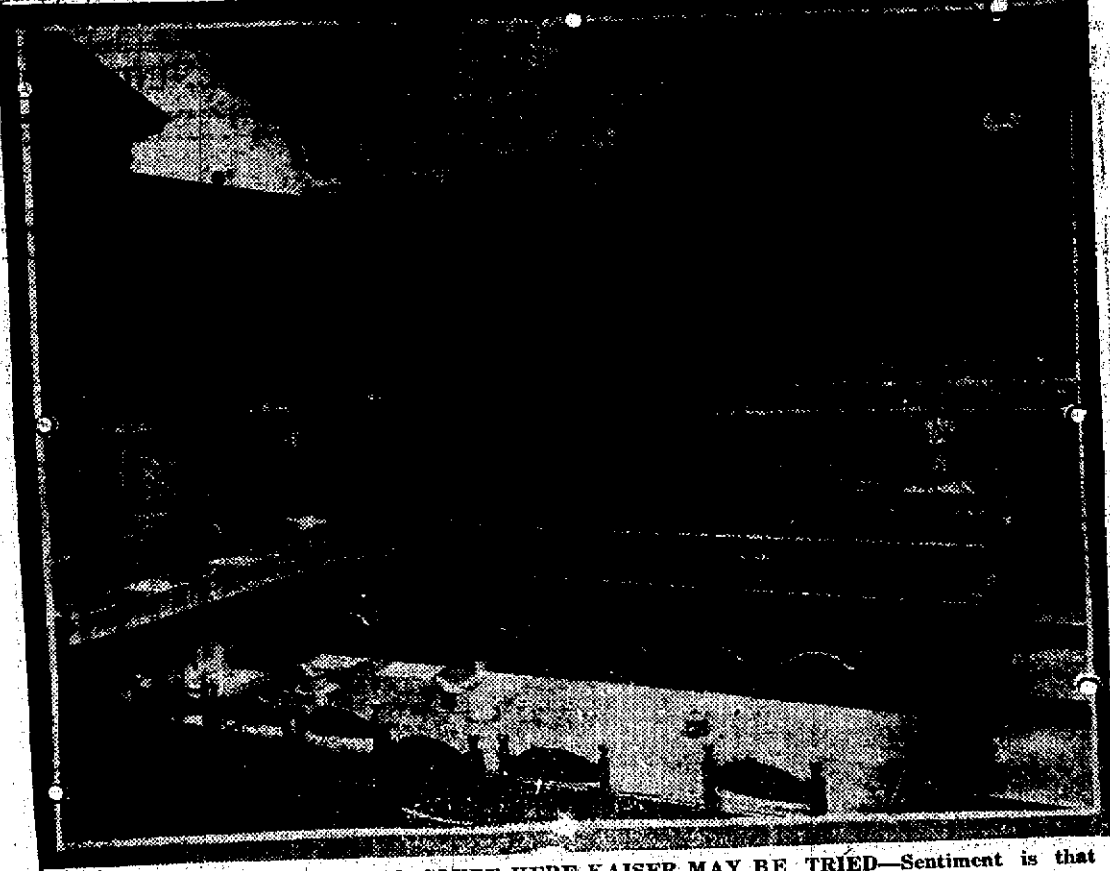

THE TENACITY OF OUR PRESIDENT

The capacity of Woodrow Wilson for work is a matter of admiration of friend and foe. His occupancy of the presidential chair has been a period of world turmoil and strife. Every day brought a new problem or a new series of problems. Great changes were occurring in the world without number. Each one calling for new efforts, new work and taxing the physical strength of the man. Only rarely has there been any signs of weakness or of his capacity for going through the routine of his office without anything of keeping his hand on the pulse of the peace conference. No man can ever accuse Mr. Wilson of being a drone. Thru all the days when governmental departments were jammed with work when departmental heads were floundering around undecided and hesitating about a course to pursue, the work of the chief executive was always up to the minute. Punctuality is a motto with Woodrow Wilson. Painstaking exactness in detail is a rule with him. A clean desk at the end of the work day is a habit. Perhaps no one has ever seen the shadow of a parallel between Woodrow and Teddy but both men are alike in respect to the amount of work they do in a day, their ability to keep in close touch with so many diversified interests and their general knowledge of world events.

Many men who have occupied the presidential chair would have found the prosecution of the war and the endless details of demobilization and reconstruction a steel band which would have bound them to stay in Washington, and without entering into the propriety of the Wilson visit to Europe, it is submitted that, somehow, Mr. Wilson found time to go to Europe. He had hardly set his feet under the mahogany at Washington until he began to take on august senators, four at a time, and although many of the bouts are declared a draw, he shows no signs of throwing up the sponge yet. His chair seat will hardly have become warm before he will be off on a nation-wide speaking tour, a feat which would tax the physical strength of most any man.

And last but not least it will be remembered that Mr. Wilson, in addition to his arduous state duties, found time to woo, win and wed the prettiest lady in Washington. Some job for one of his age, looks (beg pardon) and close application to state affairs.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate case of Piles in a Few Days
For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.
This wonderful prescription known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed never to return.
All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely its forth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.
IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Remedy has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

WOODLAND "DEFECTIVE" TO THE RESCUE

It has long been very well said that "in onion there is strength," and it has also been very generally observed that two heads are better than one even though in a general assemblage such as marked the recent clandestine gathering of this year's Chautauqua guarantors there was a "cabbage head" or two while several large "carrotty beans" loomed luminously in the background. But to get back to our story.

These Chautauqua guarantors are not nearly so anxious to locate the demon sign tacker as they were, and the reason for this change of front or heart or temperature of pedal extremities is due in large measure to the military strategy of the recent gathering. During the darkest moments of the debate when one of the few liberal fellows in the gathering made a motion to settle the entire difficulty by paying the $2000 fine into the borough treasury, a "carrot head" arose and in a burst of eloquence opined that "we're not in such bad shape as she looks, by heck". He then proceeded to remark that the Mayor or his minions including those of the Public Safety Department had set the example and really contributed to the delinquency of the sign-tacking fiend by plastering every telephone pole and at least half the shade trees about town and on the road to and from the Park with traffic and other signs on the 4th day of July last.

"Jeff" immediately dissolved the assemblage, convened the "Big Five" and War Strategy Board in executive session and a Woodland "defective" was employed to ferret out degree of alleged guilt of the borough officials. The Woodland man reported last evening and a meeting of the different boards was called for midnight tonight to pass upon the report and map out a plan for future action.

Meanwhile the Chautauqua is coming the week of July 29th to August 4th, and you will miss a rare treat if you fail to attend every session. Even the best of men condone some law violations at times.

"Y" LOSES HOT BATTLE TO HARBISON WALKER

The "jinx" persisted in staying with the "Y" team last night when they lost to the Brick Yard team by the score of 6 to 5 in eight innings. When the game started it looked very much as if the "Y" team was playing the Cuban Giants as the Harbison-Walker had a few of their dusky warriors playing for them.

The "Y" team got one over in the first on Roseberry's walk, his steal of second and third and Clarks out at first. The brick yard came back and got one in their half. In the third inning the brick yard forged ahead by scoring 3 runs. The "Y" got one in the first half of the fourth and tied it up in the sixth and forged ahead one run in the seventh on Clark's long two-base hit to left with a man on second. The brick yard tied it up in their half and won out in the eighth on Lawhead's error and Council's single to left. The score:—

COLLEGE FIGHTER AFTER A FIGHT WITH DEMPSEY

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 24—Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, is about to set a new record in pugilism. You can count back as far as you like, but you will be unable to find in the history of fistcuffs any mauler who ever attained any greatness who got his schooling within the walls of a university. Now, Drake students are out to batter that record to small pieces through the presentation to the world of Carl Broadley.

Broadley is a delicate youth of six feet, four inches, and 246 pounds. His home is in Texas, where they make 'em decidedly rough, and he wants to fight for a living—rather a high-flying ambition for a mere collegian, since box-fighters have begun to make millions in the game.

Off-seasons, young Broadley slays and rounds up steers, whips the country-side, and trains for football. Coach Mark Banks, old-time football star, believes the youth he is training daily in the Drake gymnasium can take the measure of Jack Dempsey. He declares that in spite of his size Banks is faster than any heavyweight the world ever has seen, and in this class he places the new champion, even in spite of the things Jack has been doing to championship aspirants for many a day.

Banks probably hasn't given much thought to how hard the big boys fall when they stop wallops, with their chin from fists carrying the weight or a Dempsey, but he can be excused for that if he really thinks he has unearthed a champion. For champions are practically as good as a young mint nowadays.

"Broadley isn't championship material right now," Banks said in Des Moines, "but proper handling within the next year will bring him around. I believe a session on the gridiron this fall will harden him a bit and make him a greater boxing possibility."

"The big fellow is just crazy to fight, and you can bet he's going to exhibit around here this winter."

Miss Elizabeth McBlain left yesterday for Johnston, where she has accepted a position with the Penn. Public Corporation.

Our Business Plan Change Saturday, August 2nd.

A FRANK STATEMENT

Twenty-two years ago we started this business with an idea of making not only a living, but a little more. We have made an ordinary profit as grocery profits go. We have bought carefully, watched stocks closely, sold to the best advantage. We have kept expenses down to a minimum. And yet—our net profit is an imaginary thing. We cast up our accounts and realize that to find an actual net profit is an utter impossibility.

The reasons for this condition are apparent. Our book accounts—good, bad and indifferent from a credit standpoint—represent thousands of dollars we should have to our credit in the bank as the result of our years of painstaking care in the conduct of this business. Our delivery trucks, their initial cost and the continual cost of upkeep and operation, represent a sum far beyond the conception of anyone not familiar with the situation.

All these things force us to one end. With the unsettled conditions that exist today we find it necessary to make a radical change in our business plan in order to survive.

To this end our books will close to all credit customers on Tuesday, July 29th at closing time.

The store will be closed for three days for rearrangement of stocks and prices and when we open on Saturday, August 2nd, this business will be conducted on an absolute and positive cash-and-carry-plan.

The same high standard of quality and store service will prevail. Prices will be consistently low with our new plan. We will conduct this store on a mutually profitable basis. We'll both save.

BOY SCOUTS

BOY SCOUT "VETS," TOO.

The veterans used to be gray haired—faces deeply marked, somewhat stoop shouldered, one empty sleeve or one pinned-up, empty trousers leg. Their deeds are already in our school histories.

But there is a new generation of veterans today. Young fellows, nearly every one of them. Not stoop shouldered; very cheery indeed and with good cause. Not yet long enough returned from the battles to have held an annual reunion. But veterans nevertheless. Saviors of their country. Saviors of the world.

And there is a still newer generation of veterans coming upon the great world stage. These have not been to war. They may never go to war. And because of them—in part at least—the world itself may never know war again.

These newer veterans are the young fellows who have been five years in the boy scout movement. They are first-class scouts. They have taken upon themselves the scout obligations for life. They have registered with local scout authorities for service to the community in any emergency.

Scouting principles imbedded in a boy's nature will continue to operate in his life whether or not he wears the uniform and the badge. But in order that the movement shall affect the quality of citizenship of the whole nation most effectively, scouting principles should continue to operate through every scout in the active, positive form which the veteran scout embodies in his allegiance.

A SCOUT PARADISE.

I know of a wonderful spot for a camp on the edge of a shimmering shore. And a lake that's as blue as the sky over you, and as sweet as the wind at your door. There the red-winged black-bird calls to his mates to bathe in the pickering pond. And the banks overflow with the blossoms that grow at the touch of Fair Nature's wand. There the soft breezes whisper the secrets of rest while away on the big lake we row. And the swimming is fine in the summer sunshine, and at evening the campfire aglow. There's a jolly old lodge with a jolly old name—Scout—on the shore. And a jolly old chef with a jolly old smile on the front of his jolly old face. There we pitch our tents with a speed that's immense and we smooth out our bunks with delight. In the blankets we crawl and somewhere we fall, to the tune of the sweet sounds of night. Why not join in our song as we ramble along, and gather your troop on the way? You will hit up scout's pace when you get near the place, and be ready for work or for play.
—By R. N. Berry.

SCOUTS BOOSTED IN BOSTON.

A letter to the Boston Transcript, signed among others by Charles W. Elliot and A. Lawrence Lowell, says in part:

We are entering an era of readjustments in wages and prices. In many cases lack of employment and clashes of opinion between employers and employees will be inevitable. Unless we adopt every reasonable means to promote right understanding and good feeling between our various groups—unless we keep to the front the importance of hearty co-operation—much hard feeling is sure to be generated, and we need only read the newspapers to be warned of the possible results.

We cannot expect a complete safeguard against this danger, but the public is coming to recognize that the boy scout movement gives considerable protection, because it promotes mutual understanding and good feeling.

BOHEMIAN BOY SCOUTS.

Scouts in Prague sounds like the real thing in scouting. A letter from there reads:

"Bohemia's boy scouts of the First Scout troop at Prague in the Czechoslovakian republic send greetings to their brother scouts in America."

"Members of this troop are river scouts; all round sportsmen who row, yacht, canoe, tramp, swim, etc. In winter they skate and ski, and go camping with sleds and ski."

"The troop has four canoes, two rowing boats, two sailing yachts and a motorboat, their houseboat, a ship 13 feet long with club rooms in the middle for 20 to 30 boys. The ship lies at anchor in Prague."

SCOUTING ALIVE AT COLLEGE.

The University of Pittsburgh has adopted scouting with enthusiasm, says Chancellor S. B. McCormick. Ten faculty members are instructing in scouting subjects, and courses in camp cookery and the duties of scoutmasters have been started.

SOLDIER THANKS BOY SCOUT.

Scout Harry W. Lyons of Milford, Mass., is justly proud of a letter received from a soldier in the army of occupation. The doughboy had read of the scout's splendid work in selling War Savings stamps and was moved to write:

"Here's the hand of a soldier for your earnest work in keeping me fed, clothed and equipped. I have done my best, and you have done as much if not more than I."

Miss Gaynell Gifford of Mt. Union who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Kyper on Pine street, left yesterday to visit friends in Pittsburgh.

GARAGE MUST KEEP RECORDS OF ALL CARS ENTERING

HARRISBURG, July 24.—Proprietors of public garages throughout Pennsylvania have had their attention called by letter to the provisions of the act approved by Governor Sproul June 30, requiring that records must be kept of all cars stored or left for repairs in every garage in the state. The provisions of this act are now in force. A special form has been prepared by the State Highway department; and this must be used by the garage men. Records must be kept in ink or indelible pencil and shall be open to inspection of police or other authorities for one year from date. A stiff fine is provided for failure to maintain the record.

Police authorities declare that the keeping of these records will do much to end the stealing of automobiles. The record sheet contains spaces wherein a complete description of the car is kept—the make of machine, manufacturer's number, make of engine, number of engine and other information. The sheet has been prepared so that it will be of great assistance to garage men in keeping "tabs" on their own business.

Highway Commissioner Sadler in his letter to garage owners and operators sets forth the entire section covering record keeping. It is section 8 of House Bill 395 (Act 284) as follows:

"That the proprietor of every public garage and motor vehicle repair shop shall cause a record to be kept after the manner to be prescribed by the State Highway Commissioner of the names of any and all persons owning or having charge of any motor vehicle stored left for repair, or any other purpose at any such public garage or motor vehicle repair shop, together with the make, manufacturer's number, name of state of registration and the registration number of such motor vehicles. Such record shall be kept in ink or indelible pencil, and shall be open to the inspection of police officers or other proper authorities. Such records shall be retained and be available for a period of one year after entry but not thereafter. He shall also immediately notify the local police authorities and State Highway Commissioner of any such motor vehicle wherein the manufacturer's number or mark has apparently been altered, obliterated or removed."

WEALTHY MEN FIND LIFE INSURANCE EXCELLENT THING

The most heavily insured man in the United States is Rufus W. Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia, according to figures supplied to The American by the Spectator Co., of No. 135 William street, and the Insurance Press, of No. 80 Maiden Lane, reliable trade publications. Mr. Wanamaker's policies aggregate $4,500,000.

Pierre du Pont, of Delaware Powder Trust fame, follows, with a $4,000,000 policy. Next is John Wanamaker, Sr., with policies aggregating $3,000,000.

Other large policies are held by J. Pierpont Morgan, $2,500,000; Percy Rockefeller, $2,000,000; Henry Francis du Pont, $1,250,000; Julius Rosenwald, $2,000,000, and Harry T. Dunn, $1,800,000.

17 Over Million Mark

There are approximately seventeen other policy holders in the United States whose life protection securities reach and range above the $1,000,000 mark.

The figures supplied, it is stated, are subject to revision by addition of special war policies taken out by insurers who had business abroad, or whose affairs demanded extra policy protection. Thus it is regarded as probable that most of those quoted as policy holders of $1,000,000 or over increased their insurance during the war.

Policies of about $500,000 are quite common in the insurance world and not deemed worthy of special comment. There is scarcely a successful business man who does not carry upward of $100,000 protection.

The list of heavy insurers, however, gives some strange contrasts in the matter of individual insurance holdings, taken in ratio to reputed wealth.

John D. Rockefeller, for instance, is listed as holding but $50,000 in insurance, though it is probable that his policies exceed this amount. Likewise James Stillman, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jacob Ruppert and a score more of New York's reputed millionaires hold comparatively small policies, some under $50,000.

Many of the most interesting figures, however, are the other hand, have preferred to keep secret their life insurance, and are not mentioned at all in any of the data subjected by insurance statisticians. This seems to be the general rule with women risks, as comparatively few are found in public records, with only one, Mrs. Charles Netcher, of Chicago, rated as taking out over $1,000,000 in policies.

A few of the larger policy holders and the amounts for which they are listed as insured follow:

Gimbel Brothers, $1,500,000; W. P. Bonbright, $1,000,000; Sir Mortimer Davis, $1,000,000; Henry P. Davison, $1,000,000; Frank A. Vanderlip, $700,000; Reginald C. Vanderbilt, $300,000; J. H. Ballantine, $1,000,000; H. M. Byllesby, $1,250,000; Julius Fleischmann, $1,000,000.

There are many more $1,000,000 policy holders among less well known capitalists.

Movie Stars Insured

A form of life insurance that has resulted in large policies of late years is that assigned to a corporation by an officer or employee. Among such assignments are policies aggregating $1,700,000 in favor of Eugene O'Brien and Norma Talmadge, movie stars. The Selznick Corporation is the beneficiary.

Ernest W. Marland, of the Marland Refining Company, of Ponca City, Okla., holds a $1,000,000 life policy which has been assigned to the refining company. A life assignment has been made by Marion Travis, president of the Mid-Co. Petroleum Company, Tulsa, Okla. The amount involved also is $1,000,000.

Many wealthy men are said to be taking out sufficient insurance to cover the inheritance taxes on their estates.

1919 HUNTERS TAGS WILL BE GREEN

A late dispatch from Harrisburg says the hunters' license arm tags for 1919 are now in the hands of the state printer under a rush order, so that they will be ready for issue to men who want to hunt blackbirds on August 1, when the season starts. Therefore these birds have not been heard from until September 1. The 1919 tags will be green in color. It is the plan to send them to county treasurers as soon as possible, so that they can be issued promptly. Last year there were over 300,000 hunters in every taken out in spite of the number of men who had entered the army or navy, and it is believed that this number will be exceeded in 1919.

MIS-BRANDED FEEDS

As a result of recent investigation of the sale of feeds, especially in the Philadelphia district, it was found by the Bureau of Chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, that a few brands of horse feed were being sold which were misbranded and disposed of in violation of the Feeding Stuff Law. The sale of one brand, "PUL-MOR HORSE FEED" was the cause of several prosecutions being ordered by the department and resulted in the dealers being fined $50 each for such sales. The violations referred to consisted largely of the use of oat hulls, and an inferior feed product called Flax Plant Refuse. These feeds were falsely guaranteed, contained a large amount of low grade fibrous material and exceeded the amount of crude fibre permitted by the law.

Several brands of poultry feed were also involved in the actions taken as it contained a large amount of whole weed seeds. The law distinctly prohibits the presence of weed seeds in feeds sold in this state. The fact of the sacks being labeled to show the presence of weed seeds does not lessen or overcome the offense. The Department is making a special campaign against the sale of such feeds and dealers are cautioned against handling these or other brands which are clearly sold contrary to the provisions of the law.

The law has been in force for several years and has not been changed in its application to feeds containing weed seeds and low grade fibrous by-products. Dealers, therefore, should be familiar with the requirements if they desire to avoid being held responsible for illegal sales.

The names of unregistered brands of feeds which are offered to the trade can be obtained upon request. All dealers, as well as consumers, are urged to co-operate with the department in the enforcement of the Feeding Stuff Law.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

There are rumors upon rumors floating around in business circles in this town of another brick yard locating near the borough line if not within the confines of the borough itself. The Progress representative heard reports of this new industry several weeks ago, but could glean nothing more definite than that parties representing a Mount Union company had been in town looking for a site upon which to erect a new yard, and had actually taken options on several plots of ground. Nothing more definite than this could be gleaned. Now comes a rumor to the effect that ground has actually been purchased, but its location is not stated. Curwensville people will welcome this new industry with open arms, as they will any other industry that will give employment to the town's male population. The town is vastly in need of more industrial works and the business men and others will make great effort in landing one or more ere the winter months actually set in. Let every citizen "set up and take notice," get busy and the industries will hunt the town up and look the situation over. A great many of the young men are "striking out" and going into Ohio and other states to labor, where if they could be employed in their home town at fair wages, the migration would soon end. Curwensville organized a chamber of commerce a year or two ago, but it soon became defunct for a lack of interest.

A. Z. Wolf, Sr., accompanied by several associates, made a trip to Brookville on Tuesday afternoon and transacted business.

A bevy of camp fire girls from Clearfield who have been camping along the river above the finishing tannery, are a magnet which draw a bunch of the Boy Scouts in that direction every evening.

Candidates for county office visited Curwensville yesterday and one could hardly walk a square without bumping into one or more of them. Can

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON. (By Mail).—The first attempt to fly the Atlantic from London to Buenos Aires will be staged in August, if plans of British airship manufacturers do not miscarry.

Vickers, Limited, manufacturers of the Vickers-Vimy airplane, which, piloted by Captain Sir John Alcock and Lieut. Sir Arthur Brown, spanned the ocean between Newfoundland and Ireland, are now building a huge airship which they hope to have completed by August.

It is being built along the lines of the R-34 and has been christened the R-80. In addition to a large crew the airship will carry ten passengers, all of whom have booked their seats at $2,500 per seat.

Three of those who have booked passage are Sir Woodman Burridge, his wife, Lady Woodman, and R. H. Griffith. Sir Woodman and Griffith are the directing heads of Harrod's, which has stores in Buenos Aires and London.

Lady Woodman, if the flight is successful, will have the distinction of being the first woman to cross the ocean by other than boat.

It is figured the trip will be made in four days, saving weeks of travel. Discussing the commercial use of aviation in the future between South America and Europe, Sir Woodman said he did not believe it would offer serious competition to steamers. "It will work wonders in the way of passenger traveling and will also be useful in carrying styles, jewelry and silks," said Sir Woodman, "but it would be too costly to ship goods."

He expressed confidence that eventually an aerial mail and passenger route will be established between Europe and South America.

He will return to London through the United States where he will investigate American department store methods.

Hats That Interpret Midsummer

Dress hats for midsummer, as compared to other millinery, are as orchids compared to other lovely blossoms. These millinery blooms are the most fragile, most splendid of all, the fairest and the shortest lived. They are midsummer interpreted in hats by designers whose fancies are unhampered by thoughts of anything but beauty. They look to the sheerest fabrics and to the most beautiful colors to translate their thoughts into millinery.

In the group of three hats made for the heart of summer, two are of printed georgette and one of plain georgette in the sheerest quality. The same wide-brimmed, graceful shapes appear developed in laces, malines and nets. Drills usually have lines, in flowing curves about the face and crowns are often flexible. The hat at the right of the group is a lovely example. A yamie flower motif against a black ground provides color. There is no trimming except the sash of velvet ribbon, in one of the colors in the crepe, that is brought about the crown and tied in a bow at the back.

In the hat at the left there is a hint of sport styles in the covering. It is of white crepe georgette with gay figures of Rintin-tin and Nanette disappearing themselves over its surface. A covered silk cord with small tassels at the ends dispenses itself in a careless bow on the crown to answer "present" in case any one asks for the whereabouts of tramping.

In the last hat, georgette is shirred over a wire frame with a wide ruffle flowing about the brim edge. This is one of a few models in which the crown is not flexible. Although in this particular hat there are no flowers or fruit in the trimming it is an exception to the rule, the designer having placed a sash of ribbon about the crown, tied in a generous but simple bow near the front.

Petticoat Substitute.

The long, slim suit and dress skirts almost make the wearing of petticoats an impossibility. "But we may be just as modestly and comfortably clad; for there are the long bloomers or pantalettes are usually chosen in dark suit colors and may be had ankle length or shorter and with or without ruffles. A new style has an accordion platted piece set in just above the shoe tops. For summer the short silk jersey bloomers in flesh and pink with uneven insets of lace at the knee, are perhaps the newest. Camisoles of silk jersey with lace or embroidered in pink and blue silk are also very new.

Unusual Colors.

Blue and ochre is a color combination much in evidence this season, especially for evening and semi-evening gowns.

DUBOIS PEOPLE ARE "GOLD DIGGERS"

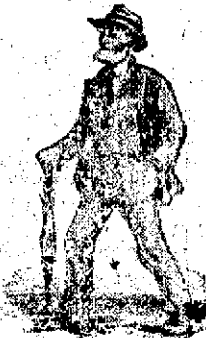

Charles J. Bangert, the Dubois printer and publicity agent, transacted business in Clearfield today. Charley made the trip over the mountain in his Ford and starting early stopped long enough en route to pick a ten quart bucketful of huckleberries which he disposed of at the market price, to his friend W. A. Heston Esq. He therefore had money enough to buy his dinner at the Hotel Jordan and topped the meal off with a ten cent cigar. To show that his heart was in the right place and that he was a regular John D. Rockefeller when he had the coin he offered to buy the Progress scribe a mate to his high-priced smoke but being off that stuff we declined.

You have got to hand it to those Dubois fellows for being frugal. Bangert heard the Mayor was enforcing the traffic rules pretty stringently and to avoid possible difficulty along that line he hid his Henry in the brush just below Hyde City and hiked the remaining two miles into town carrying his berries.
